

Decolonization + higher education + environmental education

12pm Central, Friday, March 18, 2022

We are challenged every day to learn and grow—to be our best selves and to lift up others. Through this webinar/meet-up, we'll have a chance to consider how we might cross cultural bridges through understanding and empathy. We'll also work to figure out our "why" to understand implicit bias. Our guests will also discuss Indigenous Frameworks around environment and land, as well as Native American pedagogical practices rooted in community and agency.

RunningHorse Livingston is the founder and CEO of Mathematize Inc., whose mission is to transform schools into 21st century learning spaces focused on the 4C's including collaboration, critical thinking, communication, and creativity.
